Ultimate Reptile Suppliers Pty Ltd. is owned and run by reptile enthusiasts. We are here to help your store in any way we can with all the correct advice that you, your staff or customers may need. We are only a phone call away for the help you may require at anytime!

This includes a thorough knowledge of husbandry needs, medical aspects as well as what products are required for their proper care, also the best advice on the biggest sellers in reptile accessories on the market today.

I am sure that you will agree once you have had the time to look over the URS range that we have everything that your store will ever need when it comes to reptiles. We also sell some very high quality bird & poultry products, you will find these on our webpage and they are worth a look at. We will be adding a lot more pet accessories to our list in the very near future.

You must have a registered shop front and register here for access to the shopping cart and pricing. Your account will be created upon approval from URS Wholesale. Once your account has been approved, you may purchase items from our online cart.
